

With over 15,500 students, four departments with more than 270 professors and more than 1,000 employees in teaching, research and central service units, Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences is one of the largest universities of applied sciences in Germany. "Opportunities through education" is our living motto. Practical relevance, interdisciplinary education, international orientation and regional integration characterize our profile. Diversity and social responsibility are our values. We are sustainable in all dimensions. Excellent quality in teaching and research is our aspiration.

Beginning Summer Semester 2024 our Faculty 3: Business and Law is looking for

for the following field:

Key Competencies & Personal Development, in particular Management Skills and General Education/Kulturelle Bildung reference number: P21/2023

The holder of this position will be responsible for lecturing in the field of „key competencies“, within both Bachelor and Master Programs of study in the Faculty of Business and Law. Areas of specialty in the teaching activity include the conception and execution of lectures in academic key competencies in German and English: Management skills (e.g. communication, presentation, moderation, negotiation, conflict management training), social skills, intercultural communication, business ethics, (corporate) culture, future skills (e.g. data literacy) and study skills (academic writing). Special emphasis is placed on the development of innovative teaching and learning concepts.

You will also work in an interdisciplinary team of professors in the School of Personal Development and Education (ScoPE). Here, interdisciplinary and cross-departmental offers are designed to promote the personal development of students. The main focus of this professorship in the ScoPE is on the areas of key competencies, personal development and general education/cultural education ("Bildungskanon").

Furthermore, we expect you to have excellent scientific and practical credentials and a degree in economics, social sciences/humanities or comparable disciplines. You have a successfully completed doctorate and teaching experience at universities (UAS). This includes in particular the areas of management skills, social skills, intercultural communication, future skills and study skills. You have experience in the didactic and methodical design and implementation of curricular and extracurricular courses.

You also gained professional experience in the field of personal development and in the application of cultural education methods ("Kulturelle Bildung") and bring openness to interdisciplinary fields. You should be able to demonstrate interdisciplinary research and publication activities in the field of key competencies, general education/Kulturelle Bildung. You are highly motivated to support and encourage our diverse students in their professional and personal development. Your own experience in the field of mindfulness and/or as an artist* is desirable.

You are asked to submit a teaching and research concept, based on the strategic direction of the department, as well as a concept for third-party funding (see also www.frankfurt-university.de/Fb3-Bewerbung). A draft of the interdisciplinary cooperation with the colleagues of the ScoPE must also be attached.

If you have any questions, please contact Prof. Dr. Barbara Lämmlein by e-mail at blaemmlein@fb3.fra-uas.de

This is a permanent position. The first appointment as a professor is as a public-service employee on probation or with an unlimited employment contract with a 3-year long probation period.

Further official duties and requirements are listed under §§ 67-69, 75 and 76 of the Hessian Higher Education Act, found in www.hmwk.hessen.de (only available in German).

We value diversity and therefore welcome all applications - regardless of gender, nationality, ethnic and social origin, religion/belief, disability, age, and sexual orientation and identity. People with disabilities are given preference in cases of equal personal and professional suitability. As a holder of the "Family-friendly University" certificate, the university will take your individual family situation into account when organizing your working hours.
