

With over 15,500 students, four departments with more than 270 professors and more than 1,000 employees in teaching, research and central service units, Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences is one of the largest universities of applied sciences in Germany. "Opportunities through education" is our living motto. Practical relevance, interdisciplinary education, international orientation and regional integration characterize our profile. Diversity and social responsibility are our values. We are sustainable in all dimensions. Excellent quality in teaching and research is our aspiration.

We are looking to fill the following position in Faculty 4: Health and Social Work by April 01, 2025.

Professor (W2 salary scale HBesG, Hessian Federal Civil Service Remuneration Act) in the following subject area: Social inequality and socio-ecological transformation Job advertisement number P30/2024

There was already a call for applications for this professorship (P23/2024), which unfortunately had to be canceled for technical reasons.

As a social scientist with a doctorate, you will teach in the department's degree programmes that match your profile. You have several years of teaching and research experience in social inequality, especially in the distribution of income, wealth and time as well as in the consumption of nature. In the field of socio-ecological transformation, you are expected to have in-depth knowledge of challenges and concepts for the future, with a particular focus on the importance of social movements. We require knowledge of and experience with application-oriented methods of action as well as theory-practice transfer. In addition to the application documents listed below, we ask you to submit a teaching and research concept that meets the requirements of the position. The ability to teach in German is a prerequisite.

Information about the department can be found here.

The position is available for an unlimited period of time. When first appointed to a professorship, employment is initially on a probationary civil service basis or on a permanent employment basis with a three-year probationary period.

Conditions of employment, further duties and prerequisites result from §§ 67 - 69, 75 and 76 of the Hessian Higher Education Act; to be viewed at www.hmwk.hessen.de.

We value diversity and therefore welcome all applications - regardless of gender, nationality, ethnic and social origin, religion/belief, disability, age, and sexual orientation and identity. People with disabilities are given preference in cases of equal personal and professional suitability. As a holder of the "Family-friendly University" certificate, the university will take your individual family situation into account when organizing your working hours.

Applications with the usual informative documents (incl. list of publications, projects, description of previous teaching and research activities) are requested by August 06 2024, quoting the reference number, by e-mail to personal@frankfurt-uas.de (please send all documents in one PDF file):

To the President of the Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences,
Human Resources,
Nibelungenplatz 1, 60318 Frankfurt.
www.frankfurt-university.de